

News October 2007

Hi

Neets is here with more interesting news.

- Product packages
- New export sales manager

Product packages

Neets has made it more intuitive and easy to find out what products you need for an installation. We have constructed some product packages for specific projects, ranging from our smallest control system to the system that has it all. And from relay box systems to Neets starter kit.

Class- and meeting rooms systems are 3 different packages (System 1, 2 and 3) for your quick installation project. The packages all contain your typical small intuitive system that controls a projector. If you pick System 2 you also get a keyboard lock to prevent unwanted handling of the control panel. System 3 is your full system with projector control, keyboard lock and screen or lift control.

The conference room system is all your heart can desire when making a conference room that requires the best. The product packages for conference rooms contain our largest system Neets Control - EU Professional to give you all the extra benefits. These packages range from System 1 the control system for on wall mounting over System 2 with quality design in real glass frame and anthracite keyboards to System 3 with all that your heart desires in control and design.

For the relay box system we have packed all you need when installing a project that requires a relay. The packages contain relay box, protection caps and power supply – all you need in one item number.

If you are just getting started on Neets products we recommend the Neets Starter kit System. With this system you will learn how Neets products work in no time. The product packages contain a control system, programming cable or IR-Emitter, manual, "how to" videos and software.

Read more about the product packages and order here.

New export sales manager

Neets welcomes our new export sales manager Lars Jørgensen, who joined Neets October 1th and will be working closely together with founder and managing director Tue Steen Andersen in developing Neets sales worldwide.

Left: Managing director Tue Steen Andersen,
right: Export Sales Manager Lars Jørgensen

First and foremost Lars will start of by concentrating on expanding Neets markets in Europe. Lars comes from a similar position and has made remarkable results. Neets looks very much forward to the new cooperation.

Best regards

Neets